Dear Sir/Madam:

I am interested in the Junior Web Developer position that you have listed on Jobs.net. I am a highly motivated, hard working, enthusiastic person that will do everything that is asked by me, and more. I believe that a company is only as strong as its weakest link and I will be one of the strongest links your company has, if given the opportunity. I am able to make stylish and functional web pages, while spending the least amount of money and using as little resources as possible.

Your Requirements

- Bachelor's in CS or related
- 1-3 years experience in: PHP, CSS, HTML, Content Publishing, MySQL Database
- Willingness to handle both large projects and small tasks as needed
- Organization and analysis skills, with strong problem-solving ability
- Ability to multi-task and manage several projects at once using different operating systems, development languages, and coding styles
- Experience in a team-oriented environment focused on developing web-based applications

My Skills/Experience

- Bachelor's in IT in December 2010
- 5+ years HTML, 3+ years Content Publishing, 3 years CSS, 2 years MySQL, 1 year PHP
- I can make a site from the ground up or just work on parts of a smaller project if needed.
- I am a perfectionist that likes to keep things well organized, neat and clean. I can analyze a situation/request from a client and adapt to meet their needs.
- I am a great at multi-tasking and have managed several projects at once many times while being in many web development classes at the same time.
- I have worked on many team-oriented projects and can work well with others, doing whatever is needed from me by the team.

Sincerely,

Kris Suchdeve
